

WANTS TO FIND WHEN BARRINGER BECAME EXPERT

Attorney for Rapid Transit Gets Witness to Tell Entire "Story of His Life"

Cross-examination of W. H. Barringer, expert on valuations, consumed the greater part of this morning's session of the trial of the territory's injunction suit against the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company. At the request of Attorney D. L. Withington, one of counsel for the company, Mr. Barringer related his life history from start to finish, beginning with where he was born, and ending with his detail to make an inventory of the physical value of the property of the Rapid Transit.

Regarding depreciation in the value of a plant or a railroad system, Mr. Barringer testified that such depreciation begins when the system is first put into running order, and that it continues throughout the life of the plant. Mr. Barringer said that Charles E. Forbes, superintendent of public works, had detailed him to make an inventory of the Rapid Transit property. At first, he was to assist H. Gooding Field, the statistical expert, but later took all the responsibility as Mr. Field had other duties to perform, he testified. He was to use the records of the company in supplementing the data which he secured from other sources, he added.

Not All on Streets.

"Is the railway entirely on the streets?" asked Attorney Withington, referring to the Rapid Transit.

"No. Some of it is on the government reservation in Kalihi and some of it is on the company's property," answered Barringer.

"In making your inventory, did you include rights of way?"

"I did not, as that was not a portion of my order of inventory. I did not make an inventory of the real estate; I left that to someone else," said Mr. Barringer.

"What?" inquired Attorney Withington.

"To Mr. Field," said Mr. Barringer. "I was employed at the outset to assist Mr. Field."

An objection to this line of testimony, on the ground that it had no bearing on the issue, was made by the territory.

"I want to find out when this witness became an expert valuer," argued Attorney Withington.

Further cross-examination of Mr. Barringer was to be had this afternoon.

W. B. Cattell, an expert on valuations, will arrive in Honolulu in the Matsonia tomorrow as a witness for the Rapid Transit.

GUilty ON ONE CHARGE IS PLEA OF MARCALLINO

Company, valued at $1200 and owned by Julia Bishop Egan.

Late on Monday evening, November 1, Marcallino tendered his resignation to Circuit Judge Whitney. The resignation was accepted and notice of the clerk's retirement was made in open court on the following day. During the morning of November 2, the story of Marcallino's defections leaked out. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the city attorney's office and Marcallino was taken into custody that afternoon.

Four indictments against Marcallino, all charging the embezzlement of funds which he held in trust for J. J. Egan, a former resident of Honolulu and now living on the mainland, were returned by the territorial grand jury last Thursday afternoon.

Marcallino was arraigned last Saturday morning. One indictment was read. Through his attorney, R. W. Breckons, Marcallino asked that plea be reserved until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Ashford fixed bond in the sum of $2500 for each of the four charges.

"Johnny" Marcallino was one of the most popular court officials in the territory and the news of his defections came as a surprise and severe shock to his many friends. He has a wife and family.

coronation proper, but will represent America at the Harvest Festival of Daijosi on November 14.

All Japan is uniting today in the coronation celebration of its 222d emperor. Some time within the last few hours this afternoon Yoshihito has entered the Shunk-den palace, and prostrate before the Kashikidoro, or three sacred treasures, has prayed for the prosperity and advancement of his reign. It is at this service that Yoshihito acquires the silver mirror, the silver sword, and the jewel.

H. Arita, consul and acting consul-general of Japan.

These treasures, the Kashikidoro, are said to have been the guard and symbols of successive emperors since the first of the royal ancestors to whom Yoshihito reports his succession to the throne, and sovereignty of the Japanese empire.

Throughout this afternoon event is following event in rapid succession in the ceremonies. Tonight at approximately 7:45 o'clock Honolulu time, Yoshihito will formally assume the throne, announcing to the representatives of 18 different countries that he has done so.

Will End Formality.

This final ceremony occurs in the Shishin-den palace, where Yoshihito, having been presented with the scepter, shall leave his seat and rising to face the crowd of distinguished visitors gathered, read the imperial declaration. Banzais loud and long will greet the finishing of the reading, thus breaking the spell of formality that has gathered day by day around the Kyoto temples.

Military Parade Planned.

Upon the return of Emperor Yoshihito to the capital, Tokyo, a grand military parade is planned to take place in the Yoyogi parade ground, to be followed later by a review of Japan's entire naval forces, which will be assembled in Tokyo bay.

Daijosi, the great harvest festival, occurs but once in the lifetime of an emperor and is a ceremony wonderfully impressive in its gorgeousness. At this feast the emperor dedicates to his royal ancestors and to the gods of heaven and earth, the fruits of the new harvest. This ceremony will be held on November 14.

In order to correspond with calendar time, Japanese have decided to postpone their celebrations locally, until tomorrow, November 10, Tokyo time, being the date set for the coronation. In the Japanese district this afternoon banners and flags are beginning to go up in honor of the occasion, however, and throngs of Japanese crowd about the windows of the Hawaii Shingo and the Nippon Jiji, reading the coronation extras.

Give "Banzai" Tonight.

Tonight at 7:45 has been figured out as the exact moment when Yoshihito will assume the throne, and at this hour Japanese all over the islands will pause in their work long enough to give a hearty "banzai" for their emperor.

Housemaids with their hands in the dishwater, yard men hose in hand, peddlers at their peanut carts, storekeepers, brass pounders, all Japanese, even the consuls, will join with one accord to give the shout of recognition to Yoshihito's reign.

Tomorrow will be the grandest of all Japanese celebrations held in the islands in years. All Japanese stores will be closed and Japanese working in stores of other nationalities will be given a holiday. Private families are asked especially to grant holidays to their Japanese servants if possible.

At the Japanese consulate, Nuuanu and Kuakini streets, a fitting ceremony will be held tomorrow morning in honor of the coronation. The program chosen is as follows:

Program at Consulate.
National Anthem of Japan (played twice), Hawaiian band. The assembly will take off their hats at the commencement of the music.
Uncovering of the imperial portrait. Salute by all present.
Reading of congratulatory address by H. I. J. M. Acting Consul-general Arita, chairman of the celebration committees.
Singing of the Japanese national anthem (twice) by the assembly.
Three loud banzais for the emperor.

GUBERNATORIAL YARN SQUELCHED BY MR. PINKHAM

Governor Pinkham this afternoon squelched the rumor of his supposed resignation with a short, emphatic and final:

"It is absolutely false."

Capitol and court circles tingled today with the rumor that Governor Pinkham may resign on account of ill health and also with rumors of men who might be possibilities in case the rumor should prove true.

By the governor's friends the rumor was instantly branded as preposterous. One of them termed it "only a wild pipe dream of somebody's."

It was pointed out in the first place that the governor has the confidence of Washington and strong support for his administration, and in the second place that he is not in ill health, but is remaining at home to recuperate for his Washington trip, his physical disability making it necessary for him to husband his strength.

Where the report began, it is impossible to say, but it sprung out with much vigor.

One of the contributors rumors was that Attorney A. A. Wilder was going to Washington in connection with the possible vacancy. Judge Wilder, however, explained on inquiry that he is going to Washington on other business, leaving here November 11.

"But," he added, "I hear that Mr. Pinkham may resign and if there is to be a vacancy, then I am a candidate and will go, of course, unless Mr. Pinkham is content to resign."

Another possibility spoken of is Superintendent of Public Works Forbes and G. S. Harrison, head of the water resources branch of the United States geological survey, who are going to Washington soon, leaving here about December 1. They are going in connection with territorial business, the governor, wishing to lay some important matters before Washington authorities.

Mr. Wilder said today that if he had an opportunity in Washington he would put in a word for the reappointment of Federal Judge Dole.

In court circles the tip is out, as already published in the Star-Bulletin, that Assistant District Attorney Vaughan is likely to succeed Judge Dole.

AVIATOR NILES PLANS STOP IN HAWAII TO FLY

(Special Marconigram to Nippon Jiji) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Aviator Niles, who made a number of flights over the exposition grounds after Art Smith left for the East, has accepted the invitation of the Aero Club of Japan to give a number of exhibitions in that country, and will leave here with his party on the Shinyo Maru, which sails on November 20. Niles is scheduled to make flights in Tokyo, Nagoya, Osaka, and Yokohama. He is also planned to have the aviator give a number of flights in Korea, China and Australia. Niles will stop at Honolulu on the return trip.

BY AUTHORITY. THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The President of the United States having proclaimed the 25th day of November of the year 1915 as a day of national thanksgiving to Almighty Providence that has so kindly cared for, guarded and prospered us, I urge the people of the Territory of Hawaii to join together, with the nation, in rendering praise and thanksgiving for the mercies and favors granted us.

Let us, as we need, broaden our minds, sympathies and understandings, and seek justice for all that the scales may hang even.

While we pray for the nations of the earth, now in desperate struggle, let us trust to the inscrutable ways of the Creator and Ruler of the Universe and bow to his decision, be it as it may.

Let the people gather in their places of worship and homes, and each, as his heart and conscience dictates, give thanks, intensify and renew family affection and welcome the stranger within our gates.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the Territory of Hawaii to be affixed.

Done at the Capitol in Honolulu, this 1st day of November, A. D. 1915.

Governor of Hawaii.

TARLETON GOES TO PATTERSON LINE ON COAST

General Freight Agent of Oahu Railway & Land Co. Will Reside on Mainland

One of Honolulu's well known men, Albert H. Tarleton, who has lived here for a number of years, is leaving this city at 4 o'clock this afternoon on the Manoa, for California, to take a position as superintendent of construction for the Patterson & Western railroad, owned by the Mineral Products Company, in which a majority of the stockholders are Honolulu men.

It is considered likely that Mr. Tarleton will become permanent general manager of the line, which extends from the company's factories to its mines. Mr. Tarleton has been connected with the freight department of the Oahu Railway & Land Company since the early days of its organization, working his way up from a minor position to that of general freight agent.

In Y. M. C. A. work, Mr. Tarleton has always taken a prominent part. For the last three years he has been a member of the Honolulu association's membership committee, and has seen the membership rise in that period of time from 1150 to 1385. He was one of the most vigorous and consistent workers in the big campaign of two years ago, when 500 new members were obtained in one day. He also has served on the swimming pool committee.

Mr. Tarleton's family have been living in California since last spring. In civic activities Mr. Tarleton has also played an active part. He has been a member of the charter convention, and attended regularly that body's deliberations.

WUDAN CHARGED WITH ANARCHY; IS HELD IN JAIL

he is sent back to China his friends say his opposition to Yuan is likely to get him into a very serious situation.

Incidentally, this is the first arrest of anyone charged with anarchy within the memory of immigration officials. There is, however, one case a few years ago on record where a move was made against a Chinese newspaperman by the then inspector in charge, Raymond C. Brown, but anarchy was not proved, it is said.

The international "angle" to the arrest of today may develop interestingly. Wudan is an announced opponent of President Yuan of China.

Talked of Decapitating Yuan.

Gen. Wudan has been an active worker in Honolulu for the National party and has made a number of enemies during his stay here. Local meetings have been held in many parts of the city, and in speeches Wudan has opposed the policy of changing the government to a monarchy in China. In one of his speeches on June 7 of this year Wudan was accused of making a statement that Yuan Shih-Kai should be decapitated, and that the editors who favored him should not be set free.

One bit of documentary evidence against Wudan, said to be a translation of a speech by Wudan taken from the Liberty News, reads as follows:

"From the Chee Yow Shin Bo of June 7, 1915, Paragraph 2, Lines 7-8. 'Heading of Article: Report of Speech of D. J. Wudan, delivered May 31, 1915.'

'Reference to the guilt of Yuan Shih-Kai, he is to be decapitated and those editors who favor him cannot easily be set free.'

Consul Reticent.

"I can make no statement until I am more fully advised," was the only comment which Tz-ang Wuchuan, Chinese consul for Hawaii, would make this afternoon, when told of the arrest of the bitter enemy of China's president.

Mr. Wuchuan declined to reply when asked if complaints had been made by him to Washington concerning the tenor of the articles which have appeared within the last few months in the Liberty News.

Came Here in April.

Col. Gen. Wudan arrived here on April 5, 1915, from Japan as a "student" and openly announced at that time that he was here to work for the overthrow of the Yuan Shih-Kai government. It was announced that he had been president of the Chinese electors who named Dr. Sun Yat Sen first president. He identified himself, it was said, with the Nationalist party sympathizers here. The Star-Bulletin has published several statements by him on the revolutionary movements in China.

Gen. Wudan has taken an active part in mass meetings and in publishing literature on behalf of the Nationalist party.

ONE OF JAPAN'S WARSHIPS SEEN FROM MAUNA KEA

Unknown Craft, Attended By Collier, Anchored Between Lanai and Kahoolawe

Accompanied by a collier, a Japanese cruiser believed to be the Asama, which went on the rocks at Turtle Bay, Lower California, last spring, was passed by the inter-island steamer Mauna Kea at 12:30 o'clock this morning, between the islands of Kahoolawe and Lanai, as the passenger steamer was sailing to this port from Hilo.

The Mauna Kea's officers could not make out the vessel's name. She did not seem to be in distress and was apparently at anchor, riding there over night, with the collier a short distance behind her.

Japanese Consul H. Arita said this afternoon the war vessel might be the Asama, but that he has no official information of any Japanese battleship being in this vicinity. "I saw in the Associated Press reports two weeks ago that the Asama was to sail from a Canadian port," he said, "so it may be that ship. I don't know anything about this vessel, though."

The Asama, after being pulled off the rocks in Turtle Bay, was towed to the port of Esquimault for repairs. She has been there a number of months.

WILLARD GRACE of the Standard Oil Company's Honolulu office, leaves this afternoon on the Manoa for a vacation on the mainland.
